Termin'eau at the NADTI conference

There had been opportunities before, but it was easier to talk about the Termin'eau course with a little more experience. In 2024, the third edition of the course took place and the call for paper of the New didactic approaches to translation and interpreting, organised by the Société française de traductologie (SoFT), in collaboration with the CLESTHIA research unit (Sorbonne Nouvelle University) came at just the right time to begin this scientific communication about the experiment.