

Passeport for open science

Published by the Ministry of Higher Education, Research and Innovation and produced by the Committee for Open Science and the University of Lille, The Passport to Open Science is a guide designed to support doctoral students at every stage of their research career, whatever their field of study. It offers a series of best practices and tools that can be directly activated.

To download the document, click here